this book is comprised of a compendium of summaries from all novels that i have read for almost twelve years obviously the summaries have been documented on my blog since 2016 and seemingly in my opinion it is better bundled in a book form since the statistic views show that the classic fictions are those among most read so i rose to comply with that demand the purpose for which i devote myself to compose 85 summaries is to provide quick reading for novel readers and students numerous genres are presented because i am quite concious those will bequeath you an imaginative horizon as a work of art many of them transcend their expiatory aspects and still more important to us than scientific significance and literary worth is the inspirational impact those novels have on serious readers finally happy reading and i hope you will find this book useful

Eva a 1927 novel by Dutch writer Carry van Bruggen is an experiment in depicting a woman's life from girlhood to marriage and beyond to sexual freedom and independence at the same time the narrative expresses Eva's dawning sense of self and expanding subjectivity through a stream of consciousness told by a shifting narrator burdened all of her life by feelings of shame at the end of the novel Eva overcomes this legacy of her upbringing and declares that it is bodily desire that makes love acceptable Carry van Bruggen's rich and varied language conveys Eva's experience of the world powerful memories of an orthodox Jewish childhood pervade the novel with its fluid sense of time as Eva puts it I let these years slip through my fingers like a stream of dry glinting sand Jane Fenoulhet makes this important modernist novel accessible to English readers for the first time while it can be described as a becoming woman of both Eva and her creator so can the translation be seen as the translator's own becoming as Fenoulhet explains in the accompanying commentary where she also describes the challenges of translating van Bruggen's dynamic intense narrative for Fenoulhet translation is more a matter of personal engagement with the novel than a matter of word choice and style in this way the emotional and intellectual life of the main character is re-enacted through translation
